Travel and Accommodation Allowance Guidelines for Apprentices / Trainees

Full guidelines can be found in the Travel and Accommodation Allowance Policy, www.dtwd.wa.gov.au.

You may be eligible for travel and/or accommodation allowance if you:

- travel to off the job training that is funded by the Department of Training and Workforce Development — if you don't know if your training is funded by the Department ask your employer or telephone the TAA Administration Officer on 6551 5494.
- listed on the Department's system as an active, suspended or out of contract apprentice or trainee during the claimed period
- have a home address within Western Australia.

You may not be eligible for travel and/or accommodation allowance if you:

- have a training status which is withdrawn, cancelled, completed, pending or expired at the time the approved training was undertaken
- are paid a Travel and Accommodation Allowance by your employer while attending training
- have an employer who incurs the total cost of your travel and accommodation
- travel to a registered training provider which is not the closest training venue approved to deliver off the job training.

Travel distances and eligibility

There is a minimum round trip distance which must be travelled to claim assistance. This is calculated based on the shortest possible road distance from your usual place of residence to the closest training venue and return using BING Maps.

The minimum road trip distance must be at least:

- 71 kilometres for travel allowance
- 200 kilometres for accommodation allowance
- 1200 kilometres for travel by air.

Note that if you travel in the same vehicle as another trainee/apprentice — only one person can claim the travel component of the allowance.

Definition of closest training provider

The closest training provider is the one that has a training venue located the shortest possible road distance from the apprentice's/trainee's residential address (regardless of the method of transport used to get to the training venue).

Checklist:

- Have you signed your claim form?
- Has your lecturer signed your claim form?
- Are the dates in the travel log consistent with the days the lecturer has signed off? (You may extend your stay in the training location for personal reasons, providing there are no additional costs in the claim. You can not claim extra accommodation when staying for personal related reasons.)
- Are the bank details correct? (Remember the account number is the number on the bank statement, not the number on the ATM card.)
- Is relevant company documentations attached, e.g. travel and/or accommodation receipts?
- Have you kept a copy of your claim?
