How to find information on registered training organisations on training.gov.au

The National Register of VET, training.gov.au (TGA), is the authoritative source for information on nationally recognised training in Australia. It includes information on:

 - qualification commencement information; and
 - restrictions on a RTO's delivery.

- If you know the RTO's name, enter it in the 'Organisation / RTO' search box in the 'Quick search' facility. This will take you directly to the 'Organisation details' page.
